

NEWS OF THE DAY.

"To show the very age and body of the times."

The President on Saturday last, addressed, by telegram, to Gen. Sheridan, certain interrogatories concerning the late New Orleans disturbances, with the view of obtaining a brief statement of the material features of the affair, commencing with the meeting of the revolutionists on the 27th of July, and ending with the riots of the 30th and 31st of the same month. Yesterday, a telegram in answer to this was received from Gen. Sheridan, informing the President that the required statement would be speedily furnished.

Chester D. Hubbard, member of Congress from West Virginia, declines to accept his increased pay, as provided by the act of the last session of Congress. The U. S. Treasurer yesterday received a letter from Mr. Hubbard, in which was enclosed the order of the sergeant-at-arms of the House, entitling him to $2,800. Mr. Hubbard says he voted for the bill because he did not want to defeat the appropriations therein, but he did not expect to draw his increased pay.

An editorial correspondent of the Albany Argus takes a very hopeful view of the future of Ireland, as follows:—"The progress among the people in wealth and education is decided. The Catholic University rivals the Queen's colleges in giving instruction to the people, and the rudiments of learning are pretty generally diffused. The rate of wages rises steadily and food is cheap and abundant."

In New York, yesterday, twenty new cases of cholera and four deaths were reported. In Brooklyn eight cases and one death were reported. Fourteen new cases and three deaths occurred at Philadelphia yesterday.

Twelve deaths from cholera are reported by the Board of Health at Cincinnati, as having occurred in that city between the 11th of July and the close of the month.

The Montreal papers are making some complaint about the extensive circulation of American silver in Canada. They say that this money has driven bank notes out of circulation in the towns, and they are now almost exclusively in the hands of the country people, "and the danger is the greater in case of any sudden alarm or revolution."

One of the best attended places in Saratoga this season is John Morrissey's "banking house," which is the latest euphemism for gambling hell. Immense sums of money have been staked, and one politician and newspaper speculator is reported to be $60,000 behindhand. The "bank" cleared $150,000 in a single week. The Staats Zeitung, the organ of the "German Unionists" of Tennessee, places at the head of its columns the name of Gen. George H. Thomas as its candidate for President in '68, and says that the voices of 200,000 soldiers of the Army of the Cumberland will ratify the nomination.

Pierce Butler, is personally testing the difference between slave and freed labor on his rice plantations in Georgia. Of more than three hundred colored persons, once his slaves, all but a few have returned and accepted the wages he has offered them.

The offices of the American Telegraph Company and the National Express Company at Atlanta, Georgia, together with three or four other buildings, were destroyed by fire on Sunday night last. The amount of loss sustained is not reported.

The Chinese, nine-tenths of whom never saw a steamboat, possess the finest coal in the world for generating steam. It is found near Peking, the capital, where a coal field exists of no less than three hundred miles in extent.

The New York Herald suggests that the radicals are very much in need of a few more riots. For particulars, terms of compensation, &c., apply to Thad. Stevens or any member of the Reconstruction Committee.

A locomotive attached to a passenger train on the Hudson River railways has been run from Poughkeepsie to New York city, a distance of nearly eighty miles, using nothing but heat to generate steam.

A mercantile letter, dated Port-au-Prince, July 13, states that the recent insurrection of the Gonaives had been entirely suppressed by the Government, and the town given to the regular authorities.

It is rumored that Lieut. General Sherman has applied to have Brevet Brig. General Wm. A. Nichols, Assistant Adjutant General in the War Department, assigned to duty as his chief of staff.

The spiritualists of the United States will hold their third national convention in Providence, R. I., commencing on the 21st inst., and to continue in session five days.

The steamer General Lytle blew up on the Ohio River, near Bethlehem, yesterday evening. From fifteen to eighteen lives were lost by the explosion.

The fashionable churches in New York, it is announced, will be closed during the month of August. Even religion is silent where fashion rules.

LL.D. The way to get them, it is said, is by pretty free contributions to the colleges. $1,000 will buy a D. D., $10,000 an LL.D.

Over $300,000 has been received at Portland, Me., in aid of the sufferers by the late fire, including $11,013 from St. Johns, N. B.

Upwards of one million dollars have been invested in new buildings at Leavenworth, Kansas, during the present year.

One half of the deaths in Baltimore, last week, were of children under ten years of age.

THE END OF A CAREER.—William R. Cooper, who was arrested on Thursday, in Philadelphia, charged with swindling the Government of funds to the amount of some sixty thousand dollars, was, after a hearing before the United States Commissioner, on Saturday last, committed for trial.

"Some three years ago there was employed, as salesman, by Messrs. Horstman, Bros., in Philadelphia a young man named William Ringgold Cooper. He stayed there for some months, at length it was found to be suspected; when it was found to be more than questionable. He was peremptorily discharged; but through mercy, he was told to go and sin no more, and no prosecution was made against him. After leaving he entered the navy in some subordinate capacity; and how he spent his time after his discharge he does not choose to state. But this he did—he raised the wind to the tune of $60,000, married a Miss Julia Deftrees, a niece of Mr. Deftrees, the Public Printer at Washington, one of the wealthiest and most respected gentlemen at the National Capital."

DEATH FROM A FALL OVER A MELON RIND.—We find the following in the Norfolk Old Dominion, of Friday:

"Yesterday morning at about 8 o'clock, Mrs. Elizabeth Young, a lady of some 60 years of age, while on the sidewalk in front of the dry goods establishment of Messrs. Selinger, Wert & Co., stepped on a melon rind, and was immediately lifted, and taken to the back room of the Dr. J. D. Galt came immediately, and found the lady in a moribund condition. It is supposed that she fell on her head and side, and that concussion of the brain ensued. Convulsion followed her fall to the pavement, and she died in a comatose condition."

We published the above as a warning to persons who are in the habit of throwing melons and seed upon the sidewalk. It is exceedingly dangerous.—Balt. Sun.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

A white woman, with two children, has arrived in Lynchburg from Indiana, in search of relatives in Virginia. Her husband was a Federal soldier, who died, leaving her entirely penniless and homeless. Failing to obtain assistance from the "soldiers' friends" in Indiana, she has come to Virginia in her destitution. Charity always finds sympathy and assistance in Virginia, and this case will doubtless receive it. The people of Lynchburg have already helped her some.

By General Orders No. 43, headquarters department of Virginia, Brevet Lieutenant Colonel Edward W. Smith, captain 15th United States infantry, has been appointed acting assistant adjutant general of the department.

Notwithstanding the wreck of the Ephesus, Col. Lamb will proceed to Europe by the first steamer, and will continue his endeavors to establish permanently direct communication by steam between Norfolk and Liverpool.

The First National Bank of Clarksville, Virginia, completed its organization yesterday, by depositing the requisite amount of bonds, and received a certificate of authority to commence business with a capital of $100,000.

Richard Whitfield, one of the oldest merchants of Richmond, Va., died on Saturday. John M. Scherer, another old citizen of Richmond, died on Sunday.

AN INCIDENT.

The following is an extract of a letter from New York, published in the Baltimore Episcopal Methodistist, of the 4th inst.:

A Southern lady, on a visit to this city, went to worship in one of the up-town Churches. Soon after, an elegantly attired New York lady, of high social standing, entered the same pew and remained during the service; after which the Southern lady called her aside into the vestry room, and in the presence of the Rector, with whom she was well acquainted, thus addressed her: "Madam, I do not wish to offend you, but that shawl you are wearing belongs to me." (The shawl was a superb one.) The New Yorker protested, and declared that there must be some mistake. "If," says the Southern lady, "you will examine a certain corner, you will see my initials worked in it, and the Rector knows my name very well." The corner was found as well as the initials.—The Southern lady then remarked, "that ring you have upon your finger is also mine, and if you will take the trouble to examine the interior you will see the same initials engraved in the ring." Similar movements as above described took place with similar results.

Turning to her again, the Southern lady said: "Madam, that bracelet you have on is mine also, and by pressing a spring on the inside it will unclasp and show you my portrait." The New York lady did as requested, and there was the lady's portrait. She promptly returned the ring and bracelet, as she was convinced beyond the power to controvert it, that they were the property of this Southern lady, and remarked as she did, "they are yours, and you are welcome to them, but as I wore the shawl to church, I must beg the privilege of wearing it home again." The Southern lady acceded, of course, and they exchanged cards. The shawl came back in due time, but the New York lady had probably obtained the articles in such a manner as to render it too unpleasant to a diva. No more was said about it. Moral: If Southern ladies want to know where their articles of missing jewelry and wardrobe furniture are, let them attend some fashionable, "up town," New York Church, and if the men want to know what has become of all their fine horses, shipped North by army officers and "bummers," let them spend an evening in Central Park.

VOTE IN PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.—The Washington Republican, said to represent the views of the President, thus speaks:

"It will be recollected by our readers, that we intimated a suspicion several months ago, that the Radical members of Congress had entered into a conspiracy against the Constitution to shut out the electoral vote in 1868 of certain Southern States, and that about a month ago we stated more clearly what it was. As no Senator, Representative, or Radical newspaper has presumed to deny the allegation, we take it to have been true.

It is a plot that cannot be carried out with impunity. We do not believe it can be executed without bloodshed. At all events, if the electoral votes of the States thus unlawfully excluded will elect a candidate for President who shall not be elected without them, the people will find a way to have them counted, by putting the proper President elect into the executive office, and maintaining him there, by force, if necessary.

The exclusion of ten States from representation in Congress goes to the utmost verge of public forbearance. No further outrage can, in our opinion, be superadded to it without breaking the public peace and exposing the country to the horrors of another civil war, in which the people of the excluded States would have the sympathy of the civilized world."

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.—In consequence of the misapprehension as to the day of the congressional convention appointed to be held in this place on the 27th inst., the attendance was small. After consultation, the delegates in attendance concluded to appoint no delegates to Philadelphia, but requested the State "Executive committee," as requested by a resolution adopted in our county meeting to do so, nearly every county in the Congressional district having through county meetings expressed approval of the Convention.—Winchester Times.

The New Orleans Picayune attests to the quiet and peacefulness of the colored population in that city when not inflamed by the harangues of radical agitators. It says:

"The colored people of this city left to themselves as quiet, well-behaved and peaceful a race as exists anywhere. Between these and our regular and permanent citizens there exists now and has always existed a feeling of the most kindly and friendly character. Indeed, on the part of the whites, the freedmen are treated with an indulgence, a sympathy, a kindly good will, which are rarely exhibited in any country by a superior to an inferior race.—Our citizens not only cheerfully acquiesce in the result of the war in the emancipation of the colored people, and if it were in their power would not restore the old state of things. They will go farther in this than any of those pestilential demagogues who clamor so violently about the rights of the down-trodden African. They manifest these feelings not by incendiary harangues, by political changes and schemes which would be equally injurious to the freedmen and to the peace of the country, but by acts of kindness, by affording them employment at good wages, by protecting them from wrong and ill usage, and by always treating them with civility and forbearance. That this assertion is true and just, is fully demonstrated by the preference invariably manifested by the freedmen for their Southern employers."

THE CASE OF MR. DAVIS.—The New York Herald of Monday correspondent says the arrival of Charles O'Connor, direct from a protracted interview with his client, Jefferson Davis, at Fortress Monroe, gives rise to many rumors and much speculation. Undoubtedly his trip to Fortress Monroe and here is in connection with the report of the House Judiciary Committee, and well informed authorities state that, the committee having failed to implicate Mr. Davis in the assassination conspiracy, an effort will now be made to secure his release on parole, his alleged crime being reduced to the single one under which so many others in like manner implicated have all been released on parole. It has been positively ascertained that Mr. O'Connor, whatever his business may be, is prosecuting it at the War Department rather than at the Attorney General's.

GUANO.—REED'S AMMONIATED SUPERPHOSPHATE OF LIME.—The best superphosphate yet offered to the farmer, possessing all the activity of Peruvian Guano, but being far more durable in its effects.

It contains a large amount of animal matter in a highly concentrated form, which, combined with its soluble bone phosphate of lime, cannot fail to render it very valuable as a fertilizer. Notwithstanding we believe it to be the best super-phosphate in the market, yet, by reason of its expense, we are enabled to sell it very low, with a liberal discount to dealers.
